Snowboard ability Levels

First timer

First time on snow and ready to have fun!

Conveyor cruiser

Controlling speed and stopping on one edge.
Riding Conveyors.

Novice

Comfortably stopping on both edges and linking turns confidently. Progressing to chairlift and green runs. You are wanting to build confidence and skills and go to slightly steeper terrain.

Intermediate

Strengthening turning on green runs. Building speed and confidence on easy to more challenging blue runs

Advanced intermediate

Confident turning on more difficult blue runs. Riding with speed and trying red/black terrain. You are wanting to build skills and confidence on more challenging terrain.

High performance

Comfortable working on riding the whole mountain. Looking at new ways to challenge yourself off-piste, in the park, freeride terrain.

Ski ability levels

First timer

First time on snow and ready to have fun!

Conveyor cruiser

You have skied once or twice before, can slide and make slight direction changes. You want to build confidence and learn the skills of turning and stopping on Conveyor Terrain.

Novice

You are comfortable on conveyor terrain and have skied on a green run up a chairlift. You are wanting to build confidence and skills and go to slightly steeper terrain.

Intermediate

Lesson for those who are comfortable on greens and easy blues. Will be starting to ski faster, progressing to more difficult blues, parallel skiing and discovering more of the mountain.

Advanced intermediate

You have been skiing comfortably on difficult blue and easy red runs with parallel skis the whole time. You are wanting to build skills and confidence on more challenging terrain all over the mountain.

High performance

You are very comfortable skiing the whole mountain. Looking at new ways to challenge yourself through dynamic skiing. This may involve: bumps, carving, off-piste, steeps, variable terrain, park.
